"I'm Better Than Just Alright..."

A few years back I was given a makeover and now it's my time to show off why I'm better than just alright and seduce you to come and check me out. I know there will be no excuse to say, I'm hard to get to as I'm located in the heart of wonderful Westgarth where trains and trams frequently travel through my hipster neighbourhood.

Once your security checked through my small blocks intercom system, I'll buzz you in and give you a real surprise on how great I look on the inside, welcoming you in my entrance foyer and placing your personal belongings in my very handy hallway cupboard. Once you have stopped complementing on my cool shiny concrete floors, I'll cook you up a storm in my approved master chef kitchen and proudly serve you on my dining table perfectly placed in my surprising private and light filled lounge room. When things progress and you need a freshen up my double shower will be sure to impress and I've even got some
